

Brief Bio Michael Poku

Michael Poku is a resident physician in Internal Medicine and Urban Health at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He is also the Medical Director for STAR (<https://www.sisterstogetherandreaching.org/>). His primary interest is innovation in the healthcare services and digital health spaces. He currently serves and has served on the board of directors for various health services non-profit organizations. He has had various experiences in health services firms, healthcare venture capital and private equity and management consulting. He holds an MD from Vanderbilt University School of Medicine and an MBA from Harvard Business School

RESUME OF QUALIFICATIONS
Catherine Yelnosky Hamel

chamel@gilchristhospice.org

Professional Objectives: To continue in a responsible, independent senior management position in an organization focused on growth and quality, with a dedication to innovation and customer service.

Summary of Background: Professional history is characterized by twenty plus years of health care management experience ranging from small physician practice management to Fortune 500 business development and operations responsibilities including acquisition and development activities.

Employment History: 2008-Present Greater Baltimore Medical Center/Gilchrist Hospice Care

VP, Continuing Care
President, Serious Illness and Hospice Care

Greater Baltimore Health System is comprised of a 250 bed hospital, a large multi-specialty physician group, a hospice and a 12,000 member shared savings ACO. As the VP of Continuing Care, I am responsible for managing $75M revenue, 650 FTE's, and 500+ volunteers. Services include a world class hospice, a geriatric practice, two inpatient palliative medicine practices, a 27-bed sub-acute unit and all inpatient and outpatient care management functions. Serious and terminal illness services are offered throughout the greater Baltimore area and Howard, Carroll, Harford counties. Our current Hospice ADC of over 825. The practices manage over 1400 patients annually. In addition, we manage a network of home health, and long-term care partner organizations who serve the health system. The development of the network included the development of an RFP, selection and contracting and on-going monitoring and management of these providers.

Responsibilities also include the development and execution of the systems' strategy for reducing avoidable readmissions and avoidable ED admissions. We have achieved one of the lowest readmissions rates in the state. Accomplishments also include exceeding budget expectations.

Significant accomplishments include the development and successful opening of a pediatric, music and transitional care program for our hospice operations. Our care continuum won the American Hospital Associations Circle of Life Award. Fundraising goals were exceeded by more than 20%, and daily census growth is in the double-digits. Established a relationship with a hospice in Tanzania which has been recognized nationally.

July 2004-2008 NeighborCare AT Home
Vice President Infusion Operations

Directly responsible for a $75M division nationally, managing Long Term Care IV pharmacy and home infusion services. Organic growth in FY 2005 was 22% with earnings growth of 15%. Accounts receivable management improved significantly, with all centers reaching 100% of their cash collection goals for the year. Significant accomplishments included successfully negotiating and implementing a $12 million dollar, multi-year hospice contract for the division. Six Sigma efficiency initiatives include: order processing time reductions; nurse productivity, and the development of an Accounts Receivable database. Staff size over 250 employees. I was also responsible for the business development activities for a newly formed pharmacy business for the hospice community; HospiCareRx.

1996-June 2004 Severn Healthcare, Inc.
Senior Vice President /Chief Operating Officer

As a founding partner and a member of the Executive Management Team I was directly responsible for the development of a fully accredited home infusion company. The company opened in 1996 and was sold in 2004. Growth was from $0-$13M annually over the six-year period. Significant accomplishments included successfully negotiating an exclusive relationship with one of the areas largest health plans. This program additionally required the development of an internet based medical record system that allowed providers, payers, and clinicians to view the medical record of home care patients in real time.

1990-1996: Columbia Healthcare Corporation
Vice President Managed Care

Responsible for all managed care activities for the Ambulatory Surgery Division nationally. Strategy development, recruitment, training, marketing, pricing, and negotiating were under my purview. Annual managed care revenue was $225 million per year. Revenue growth per year was twice the current market rate at just over 13% per year. Negotiating favorable pricing and unit growth through surgeon recruitment programs both contributed to the sales increase. Special projects included participating as one of eight sites for the Malcolm Baldrige Quality Award Pilot Project for Healthcare Organizations. I had direct responsibility for the Information and Management aspects of the Baldrige Criteria. I managed twenty-two staff nationally.

1985-1990: TeamCare
Executive Vice President

Responsible for all operating functions for a strong regional home infusion therapy company. The company grew from a single site to a total of four locations including Philadelphia PA, Virginia Beach, VA, and Laurel Maryland. I was directly responsible for this growth and for developing the operating systems and staff to support the organization. Growth was from $1M annually to $25M annually in four years. This organization was acquired in 1989 by the largest national provider in the industry. Customer service, niche marketing and managed care initiatives were critical to our success. Staff size was 250.

iENGAGE is multisite randomized clinical trial that has two overarching goals: (1) to facilitate patient adjustment to a new diagnosis of HIV infection, and, (2) to develop the necessary patient information, motivation and skills for optimal HIV visit and ART adherence. The outcomes being measured are 48 week viral load suppression (<200 copies/mL), viremia copy-years, and to evaluate the modifiers and mediators of iENGAGE efficacy.

The JHHCC, established in 1989, has been a premier source of HIV longitudinal data on the risk factors and outcomes of HIV infection. Studies focus on HIV progression, aging with HIV infection, and includes assessments of utilization, adherence, barriers and outcomes of promising new therapies. The JHHCC has a proven history of collaboration with over 125 epidemiological, clinical, translational and health services investigators. The cohort includes the collection of clinical and laboratory data, data derived from patient interviews and repository specimens. This study provides a research platform for a variety of investigational interests.
